The Family Home

by Rev. Robert Domokos

"Wives, submit yourselves unto your own husbands, as it is fit in the Lord. Husbands, love your wives, and be not bitter against them. Children, obey your parents in all things for this is well pleasing unto the Lord. Fathers, provoke not your children to anger, lest they be discouraged." Col. 3:18-21

Ungodly people are not concerned about establishing God-fearing, Christian homes. The rules and principles for the home, as found in the Bible, are for the Christian home!

As a Christian wife, you have an obligation to your own husband. Christian wives are to submit themselves to their own husbands. Your submission to your husband is proportionate to your submission to the Lord. If you are not submissive to the Lord, then you will not be submissive to your husband. Your attitude toward the Lord will be seen in your attitude toward your husband. It is impossible to hide the real you.

As a Christian husband, you have an obligation to your own wife. Christian husbands are to love their wives. You courted her; you tried to impress her; now be the husband you made her believe you could be. Christian husbands are to love their wives enough to die for them. Think of that! If you do not love your wife enough to die for her, then you do not love her enough! (Eph. 5:25)

Some husbands ought to be ashamed of themselves! They let the wife make all the decisions. If you are merely a puppet in your wife's hand, no wonder you can't love her as you should. You have allowed her to remove you from your rightful place as head of the home.

Your children hear the arguments in the home, they see the hypocrisy, and the spirit that is in the home. Many of the excuses they know for absence from church services are learned from mother and dad. Dads, our boys will be the kind of dads we teach them to be. Mothers, your daughters will inherit and absorb your attitudes.

Children, love and honor your mother and dad! Some day you will weep bitter tears for the way you mistreated them. The time will come when you will wish you had done more for them!

The acid test for your Christianity is your home! The facts of life are stripped of their glamor in the home.

IS YOUR HOME CHRIST-HONORING?

Denver Bound!!

The 39th Annual Conference of The General Association of Regular Baptist Churches will be meeting June 22-26 in Denver, Colorado. All conference sessions and exhibits will be held in the beautiful downtown Denver-Hilton hotel. A total of 600 rooms have been blocked off by the hotel for those of our GARBC fellowship who plan on attending. This would be the "ideal" place to stay! Reservations can be made by writing THE DENVER-HILTON, 1550 Court Place, Denver Colo. — 80202. If you desire to know the special rates write to either THE DENVER-HILTON or the GARBC Home Office, 1800 Oakton Blvd., Des Plaines, Illinois — 60018.

The theme of the conference for this year is, "Ye shall be witnesses." Conference speakers include Rev. Harold Amstutz, Dr. Bryce Augburger, Rev. J. Don Jennings, Dr. William Kuhnle, Rev. Richard Snavelly, Rev. Donald Sewell, Dr. Joseph Stowell and others.

The Falcon's Nest

Many who attend our 39th Annual GARBC Conference June 22-26 in Denver, Colorado will be sure to visit the Air Force Academy in nearby Colorado Springs.

On our front cover Air Force cadets can be seen standing tall and smart against the spectacular backdrop of their chapel — THE FALCON'S NEST. The 17 soaring spires of the 10 story chapel provide one of the most inspiring views at the 17,500-acre home of some 3000 Falcon cadets. The academy, though only six years old, already has become one of Colorado's top travel attractions, with some 2,500,000 visitors a year.

State Youth Rally

The annual Ohio State Youth Rally will be held at Veterans Memorial Auditorium in Columbus on the afternoon of May 16 with registrations to begin at 10:00 a.m. The rally starts at 12 noon, concluding at 5:00 p.m.

This year's featured speaker is Evangelist Paul Dixon of Chattanooga, Tennessee. Mr. Dixon is noted as a dynamic youth speaker with great appeal to young people.

The theme of the rally is "CERTAINTY IN THE 70's" with the program featuring a panel presentation by professional men and a "STATE YOUTH CHOIR" (a first this year) under the direction of Rev. Robert Anthony. The choir will consist of over 200 teens from our Regular Baptist Churches. A plaque affirming the support of our nation by the youth of our OARBC will be presented to a government official.

Our State Youth Committee consists of Robert Anthony, Wilbur Parrish, Marvin Engle and Ken Nichols.

New Work Established

A new work has been established in Marion, Ohio. It is the Berean Baptist Fellowship. Actually, it is an outgrowth of Monday evening Bible classes held by Rev. William Brock, pastor of the Maranatha Baptist Church, Columbus. The Bible class still continues meeting the 2nd and 4th Mondays of each month. Average attendance at these classes is 80.

The first meeting of the Fellowship was held March 1st. They now average about 40 in Sunday School, and also in the morning and evening services. Other than the financial support given by the Maranatha Baptist Church, the work is self-supporting. Offerings and gifts in March amounted to $1185.

This group meets in the Pleasant School on Owen Road about 2 miles south of Marion. They have just called Rev. Don MacKenzie of New London to be their pastor. He will be on the field the first Sunday in June.

OARBC Men's Retreat

Our MEN'S RETREAT this year will be held May 28-30 at Skyview Ranch. It will begin with the Thursday evening meal and conclude Saturday noon. The cost is $11.00 per person. A $3.00 reservation fee must be in the hands of Rev. Richard Snively (Chm. Men's Retreat), Calvary Baptist Church, 2000 Broad Ave., Findlay, Ohio — 45840 by Friday, May 22. Skyview will accommodate 175 men so there will be a limit on reservations. However, camping trailers can be used. Bring your own bedding. Pillows will be provided.

PASTOR DON SEWELL of Toledo, will be the RETREAT speaker. The Lord has given him great ability to communicate with men. PLAN ON ATTENDING!

Unique Missions Conference

The Grace Baptist Church, Lima, Ohio held a Missions Conference which was a little different from the ordinary.

Participating missionaries included Dr. Kenneth Muck of F.B.H.M., Rev. Charles Hocking (BMM) of Brazil, Rev. and Mrs. John Bigelow (BMM) of Alaska and Rev. Gerald Wagnitz of the Baptist Children's Home.

The missionaries were used to the fullest possible extent! The schedule was as follows:

7:00-7:15 Opening singing, prayer, etc.

7:15-7:45 One missionary spoke to the entire group.

7:50-8:20 Discussion groups met in various areas of the building.

8:25-8:55 The groups were rotated for a second discussion group.

In these "discussion groups" the missionaries dealt with such topics as: "What kind of a home produces a missionary?"; "What should the balance be between 'home' and 'foreign' missions?"; and "How can you tell when God is calling you to be a missionary?"

The last night of their conference the church choir presented John Peterson's cantata, . . . "So Send I you."

First, One – Then, Two!

The Temple Baptist Church, Portsmouth, Ohio recently purchased a Chateau Ford Mini-bus. Seen in the above picture is Mr. Ralph Bradshaw, a member of Temple Baptist Church and a Ford salesman, handing the keys to the bus to Dr. Raymond F. Hamilton, pastor.

The bus will be used to pick up people for youth and church activities. The exciting thing is that it was paid for the first Sunday it was obtained and immediately an order was placed for a second one. Over $1700 is already on hand toward the second bus. THE LORD IS GOOD!

Heart to Heart Among the Women

—Mrs. Inez Milner — Women's Editor—

Mother

MOTHER — isn't that a warm, dear word; so descriptive of her warm, dear self. She as your mother loves to hear you speak that title and if we are a good daughter or son we call her by that dear name. We hope she is not "Queen for a Day", but every day should be Mother's Day as far as our love and concern for her can be. A Christian wife and mother is beautifully described by King Lemuel, in Prov. 31:26-21. "She openeth her mouth with wisdom, and in her tongue is the law of kindness. She looketh well to the ways of her household, and eateth not the bread of idleness. Her children arise up, and call her blessed; her husband also, and he praiseth her. Many daughters have done virtuously, but thou excellest them all. Favor is deceitful, and beauty is vain; but a woman that feareth the Lord, she shall be praised. Give her of the fruit of her hands; and let her own works praise her in the gates." "Mother dear — Beautiful things in this life are manifold tis true, We count the stars by thousands, the birds and flowers, too; The sunsets and the dawns, rare beauties far and near — but all the wide world over, there's just one "Mother Dear." — Anon.

Bethany Women's Fellowship

Forty women of Bethany Ass'n. of Regular Baptist Churches met for the Annual Pastor's Wives and Women's Missionary Officers' Luncheon at 12 noon, March 19th, at the Bonanza Sirlon Pit Restaurant on Route 193, north of Youngstown. Guest speaker, Mrs. Thomas Wills, missionary appointee to the Central African Republic under Baptist Mid-Missions, told how God called her and her husband into full-time Christian work and directed them to the field of Africa. Mr. Wills, a builder, will be building the hospital units and other structures for use in the Baptist missionary outreach there. The Wills are currently raising monthly support, funds for passage and equipment by presenting these needs and giving their testimony in the area churches. Mrs. Wills listed two special prayer requests: 1. Continued open doors to present God's call to this needed ministry. 2. Good renters for their home. They are members of the First Baptist Church, Twinsburg, and the parents of three children.

Presidents of the local missionary group gave summaries of missionary projects in which their groups are actively engaged. Project samples were circulated. Special music was presented by vocalist, Mrs. Frank Odor of Vienna. Song Leader was Mrs. Thomas Wright, Sharon, Penna.,

Mrs. Kenneth Romig of Warren was organist. The program was led by Mrs. Charles Friend of Vienna Baptist Church, president of the Bethany Women's Missionary Fellowship.

Mrs. Marjorie Odor — Reporter.

Berean Women's Fellowship

The Berean Women's Missionary Fellowship had to make a quick change in location for their Spring Rally as Mrs. Crosby, pastor's wife at Calvary Baptist Church, met with a severe accident. We therefore met at the Cedar Hill Baptist Church, Cleveland Heights on March 19th from 10:00 to 2:30 p.m. A Coffee Time had been announced for 9:40 a.m., so a goodly number of ladies arrived to enjoy hot coffee and delicious homemade rolls, served by Cedar Hill ladies in the lounge. Mrs. Walter Haller, president, presided with Mrs. Paul Fetzer, song leader and Mrs. Don Leitsch, pianist starting us off with the song, "O Teach Me Lord". The opening prayer by Mrs. Haller and Welcome by Mrs. Fetzer, president of the local society ushered in the business session. The Minutes were read, the State Spring Rally at Cedarville was announced, Treasurer's Report was given, old and new business conducted including election of officers and the following ladies elected for the coming years: Mrs. Margene Manning, president; Mrs. Lucille McGraw, vice pres.; Mrs. Dorothy Boyes, recording secretary; Mrs. B. Flanagan, treasurer. Each officer was asked to give a personal testimony, then Mrs. Ray Goodwin led in a dedicatory prayer. The outgoing officers were thanked for their service unto the Lord and the Fellowship. Special music was furnished by Mrs. Helene Retteger and the Women's Trio — Mrs. Carol Buhrow, Mrs. Sally Kadow, Mrs. Leitsch with Mrs. Elizabeth Shaver, accompanist.

Each Society was asked to give a workshop demonstration, really good ideas. Our speaker, Miss Patsy King, read from Mark 14:8 and then gave a very vivid, challenging account of her very full days as a missionary with Baptist Mid-Missions since 1957. She displayed native items, native dress and customs of the people she has come to love and win to Christ for His glory. Patsy gave two equally impressive messages. Pray for her as she completes her deputation and then on to C.A.R.

Lunch time was delightful around the tables, each lady bringing her sandwich, and enjoying the salads, dessert and beverage furnished by Cedar Hill ladies. Missionary Moments led by Mrs. Luella White, presented Mrs. Earl Umbaugh, Ohio missionary; Mrs. Howard Street, Congo and Hostess at B. M. M. Guest House, Cleveland; Helen Moose, Indonesia; Mrs. Ruth Stanton, Lucille Brouillet, Metropolitan Missions; Mrs. Mary Crotts, Carol McIver, Carolyn Renner, in Jewish Missions, Cleveland; Norma Nulph in Colored work, Cleveland; all with B.M.M. and Mrs. Pat Doty with Overseas Missionary Fellowship — Philippines.

The projects were a shower of Food stuffs, paper supplies, etc. for Metropolitan Missions Summer Camping at Camp Shalom Lake, the offering to be applied on the refrigerator for kitchen at B.M.M. Home Office.

The Theme for the Rally was "... For I have much people in this city." (Acts 18:10). About 85 ladies enjoyed the day and Cedar Hill has the attendance banner. Mark your calendar for the Fall Rally, Thursday September 17th!!

Why not have a "bundle lot" of THE OHIO INDEPENDENT BAPTIST sent to your church each month? 25 copies would cost but $25.00 per year. 50 copies — $50.00. Minimum order — 15 copies monthly — $15.00.

A Fire Fighting Course Has Been Added!

Seminary students are finding many, and in some cases, unusual ways to make an impact for Christ. Last fall two groups of boys volunteered to help fight a large fire near Baptist Bible Seminary. They worked through the night and on into the following day before the job was done. As a result of the excellent assistance the students rendered, the State District Forest Inspector, Mr. John Wargo, suggested the possibility of conducting a five-week training course for those interested in learning the proper technique for fighting forest fires.

One faculty member, Mr. Leonard Vanderveld, and twenty students enrolled in Mr. Wargo's course and will be graduated from their fire fighting course Tuesday, April 7, at 7:30. The ceremonies will take place on campus. Mr. M. M. Gordon, District Forester for Northeastern Pennsylvania will be on hand for the occasion as well as Instructor

B.B.S. Fire Fighters

Wargo. The graduates will be placed on a permanent crew for fire fighting service and will function under the supervision of Mr. Vanderveld, who has been appointed State Fire Warden. The crew is a voluntary one which means that even though they are on call whenever there is a forest fire, they are not forced to serve.

The fellows enrolled in the program feel that fire fighting is one way to get acquainted with the people of the community, it is a means of witnessing to men they would normally be unable to reach for Christ, it is a way of serving the community, and it is excellent training for the future. There is the added advantage of having trained fire fighters living on campus who have access to several hundred dollars worth of equipment provided by the State. These facts plus the gift of a fire engine, an ambulance and heat resistant fire suits from other sources give added protection to the college property.

The Salt of the Earth

by Miss Jeannie Lockerbie

(A.B.W.E. Missionary to East Pakistan)

Would you please come on a walk with me? We'll start out at the Memorial Christian Hospital in East Pakistan. Go down a brick-laid road, where cows are industriously uprooting the grass that was planted along the side of the road to prevent erosion. Walk on past the complex of six family homes and one motel where the hospital nurses and the missionary children's school teachers live. Climb over a fence and start along the jungle trail. The path is nearly overgrown with vines and shrubs. The leaves of the girjan, teak and shusim wood trees form a canopy over your head. The air is full of parrots and mynas and drongos calling to each other. Suddenly you come to a small stream which must be forded as there is no bridge, nor way around it. Unexpectedly, you pick out the shape and feel of holly bushes on either side of the stream. Then, there before you is a vast, empty field, stretching from the village on one side to the inlet from the Bay of Bengal on the other.

"Why isn't this field cultivated?" you ask. "Why aren't the cows in there getting it ready to plant like they are in all the other fields?"

Then you are told, "These are not ordinary fields. These are the salt flats. Salt is the only commercial product in this area. We must not waste these fields in growing food."

Early in the springtime, the ground is prepared. Every speck of dirt, every stone, every piece of weed or grass is dug out and thrown away. The field is divided into sections, each small square being fenced off by a six inch high mud dike. Water from the inlet of the bay is diverted into the field and allowed to fill up the squares. If the water does not flow in the right direction, men encourage it by cutting doorways through the mud walls and slopping the water through. When the water level is at 1½ inches throughout the field, the point of entry is dammed up. For one week, the water stands evaporating in the sun. A thin film of lumpy crystals lies on the floor of the squares. Using a home-made bamboo scoop, the lumps are gathered into a basket and taken to another section of the field. There another series of flats has been prepared. These appear as stair steps, one slightly lower than the one before. The unrefined salt is put on the highest level. Water is poured over it. Gradually the brine flows from level to level leaving its impurities behind. By the end of two months, the salt has passed through numerous washings and been exposed to the ultraviolet rays of the sun. Finally, it is gathered up and placed in the top of a filter tub. The final washing is given. As the salt passes out through the bottom of the tub, the crystals are pure, refined and useful.

Through the ages, salt has had an important place in the world. Among the Hebrews, it was a custom to rub newborn babies with salt to insure their health. The prophet Ezekiel refers to this custom, "In the day thou wast born . . . thou wast not washed with water to cleanse thee; thou wast not salted at all." Ezekiel 16:4. Among many people, salt is used as sign of honor, friendship, and hospitality. The Arabs say, "There is salt between us," meaning, "We have eaten together and are friends."

Salt was once so scarce and precious that it was used as money. Caesar's soldiers received part of their pay in salt. This was known as their salarium. It is from this word, that our English word "salary" is derived. Also dating back to the days when men were paid in salt, comes the expression, "Not worth his salt." It literally meant that the man had not done enough work to earn his wages.

Apart from the obvious purpose of salt, to season our food, salt is needed for many other reasons. Salt and its by-products are used by chemical companies, hide and leather processors and manufacturers of soap, washing compounds and glass. Medically, salt has antiseptic properties which make it beneficial for cleansing wounds or coating raw, sore throats. Saline solutions given by intravenous injection are used to restore the body's fluid balance after injury, surgery or shock.

Living in an area where salt is often the main topic of conversation, our minds frequently turn to the Scriptural passages which refer to salt. The Bible mentions salt 32 times, from the sage Job who asked, "Can that which is unsavoury be eaten without salt?" to James' statement, ent America or Pagan Pakistan, our job as "the salt of the earth" is to check the moral corruption of the world, so that it does not perish in its own rottenness.

Sometimes salty poultices or a plunge into the ocean will sting and hurt even while healing is taking place. Being the "salt of the earth" will not make us popular with the world. The sting of our testimony may smart even though it points the way to the healing of the soul. Paul guides believers as to how they should function as "the salt of the earth." "Let your speech be always with grace, seasoned with salt. . ." Col. 4:6. Food that is well seasoned with salt is palatable and pleasing. So it is with us. We are not to be bigoted, argumentative or critical, rather, we as salt must be wholesome, attractive, winsome.

The solar method of obtaining salt, such as is used in East Pakistan, is but one of the many ways in which salt is produced. Various countries find different methods more practical. The end result is the same, the production of salt. As "salt of the earth" we, in various countries may differ in our approach. Our job is to live as what we are, "the salt of the earth" and to draw men to "taste and see that the Lord is good."

In East Pakistan, these are the methods we use:

1. Village Visitation
2. Bible Correspondence School
3. Medical—Surgical Evangelism
4. Children's Camps and Classes
5. Literature Preparation
6. National Leadership Training.

Flooding The Salt Vats

4. Children's Camp and Classes

"So can no fountain both yield salt water and fresh."

The true Christian cannot ignore the matter of salt. Christ, speaking to believers, states, "Ye are the salt of the earth." There is no choice given, no option. The implication seems to be, You are salt, now act like it! On the natural salt flats, at the beginning of salt making season, all the dross and impurities are removed. So it is with us. When we come to Christ, He removes the guilt and stain of sin. As the season progresses, the salt is exposed to water, wind and weather to further purify it and make it profitable. So it is with us. Trials, afflictions, storms may come into our lives, in order that we may be presented to God, ". . . a glorious church not having spot or wrinkle or any such thing." The refined salt may be used as a preservative to hold back and retard decay. So it is with us. Whether we live in Afflu-

Children and Parents Reached for Christ

Special meetings were held at Maranatha Baptist Church in Springfield, Ohio, March 29. Rev. & Mrs. Clarence Henson were the Evangelist and Children Director. These meetings were geared to children and young people as well as to adults.

The Hensons effectively used object lessons, puppets, a Sing-O-Meter, etc. to explain and illustrate the Gospel for salvation and Christian obedience. There were 32 professions of faith during the week.

A special attendance drive to get new people was held each night which resulted in a total of 145 new people brought to at least one of the services during the week. David McFaddin and his family won the contest by bringing 72 of these new people. Names and addresses of the new people were secured which provide a list of prospective attenders for the church in a follow-up program.

Average attendance during the week was 112 with a high of 124. There were approximately 180 in attendance during the morning service of the closing Sunday of the meetings but this number was not used in figuring the average attendance of the evening services. Clifford Lones, Pastor of Maranatha Baptist, highly recommends Evangelist Henson to churches who want to reach a lot of new families through their children.

Piedmont Bible College Elects New President

Dr. Charles H. Stevens, the Founder and President of Piedmont Bible College, Winston-Salem, North Carolina has resigned his office of President after having served faithfully for over 25 years.

Brother Drake served for over eight years with the Association of Baptists for World Evangelism. Prior to that, he was the Assistant Pastor to Dr. Joseph Stowell of the First Baptist Church in Hackensack, New Jersey.

Brother Drake will begin his new work on August 1st, 1970. We are confident that the splendid leadership afforded the college by Dr. Stevens will be carried on by Brother Drake.

Seminary Launches Nurses Program

Baptist Bible Seminary will launch its newest program in September 1970 — a missionary nursing program. The course is open to both men and women and to those who have just finished high school as well as to those who already have earned their R.Ns. The R.N. may earn a bachelor's degree with 70 hours of additional work including a seven-week missionary apprenticeship under the supervision of a qualified missionary nurse. Students who enroll for the complete program will spend five years on B.B.S. campus at Clarks Summit, Penna. Three of those years will entail medical training and two years Bible and related areas. Brochures are in preparation and should be available upon request after May 1.

Internalism As Opposed To Externalism

by Dr. Hugh Horner

Two things were essential to render the beasts clean, they should chew the cud and divide the hoof. If this were so, they were allowed to be eaten. But if an animal like the camel which cheweth the cud and yet divided not his hoof, this they were not allowed to eat.

Let us look into the spiritual meaning of all this in relation to the inner and outer life of a Christian.

The chewing of the cud speaks of the inward process of digestion of that which one eats, while the divided hoof sets forth the believer in his walk. These two are joined in the Christian life.

Many of us read the Bible but never digest it. We never chew the cud. The cattle in the field teach us a lesson. They first of all gather it in and after they feel they have eaten sufficient, they find a place to lie down and inwardly digest the food they have gathered.

If we want to part the hoof or walk even as He walked we must gather food for ourselves, but the chewing of the cud must never be separated from the divided hoof. There must be an inner life if we are to have an outer life.

The chewing of the cud might suggest meditation on the part of the Christian. It is the exercise of a man's soul whereby he calls to remembrance that which he has gathered and thinks upon it. In study we find the truth, in meditation we ponder it. It has been called the mother of prayer. George Mueller testified that meditation was the secret of his strength. His meditation was not just for public ministry, but as food for his own soul, and there followed in his life praise, thanksgiving and daily examination.

This holy exercise of pondering over the Word, chewing to get its sweetness and nutritive virtue into the heart and life. Our devotions are too hurried and our lives are too rushed. We have disguised fleshly activity and called it service for God. We need to take earnest heed to that old hymn,

Take time to be holy,
Speak oft with thy Lord,
Abide in Him always,
Feed on His word.

It is wonderful to know the truths of Scripture, but it is only as these truths have a practical bearing in our lives, that they perform the purpose for which God gave them. Our Lord made it clear that the secret of happiness lies in doing and not just in knowing. Paul wrote to his son in the faith Timothy "Thou hast fully known my doctrine, and manner of life," saying that if our doctrine does not effect my life it is entirely useless.

One of our greatest temptations is to live before men and not before God. We worry more about what men think of us, than what God thinks of us. Does not the church at Ephesus show neglect of the inner life? Outwardly it looked the same, it might have been called a great fundamental church with an active membership, but inwardly the first love was gone.

Sainthood is produced by long hours in meditation upon God. If we want to learn God's secrets we must spend time in His presence. If we want to be like the Lord, we must continue daily to look into His face. F. B. Meyer had the spiritual reputation of being a citizen of heaven wherever he went. Are you?

The education department feels that each student teacher in the classroom environment can receive prompt evaluation and also the class has the opportunity to see their classmate communicate with the pupil in the public school setting.

MISSIONARY PROJECT

Miss Shelby Spradlin is the recipient of the project this year that involves the entire student body. All money received during the campaign will go toward the expenses that Miss Spradlin will incur going to the field of East Pakistan. The goal of $1500 was set for the year and to date almost $1150 has been received.

The most successful project was the "Keep your Link with Miss Spradlin." Each class competed by making paper chains and sold each link for ten cents. The Freshman Class came out on top with the Sophomore Class a close second. The total from this campaign was $777.

JACKETTES IN TOURNAMENT

The Women's Intercollegiate Basketball team, coached by Miss Mary-alyce Jeremiah ('65), assistant professor of physical education, spent three days in a tourney at Northeastern University in Boston, Massachusetts on March 12-14, 1970. THE FUTURE OF EVANGELISM
(by Gerald Martin—Zondervan Publishing House, Grand Rapids, Michigan, 1969; 88 pages, $2.95).

In dealing with such requirements as the realization of sin, the need for repentance, the place of faith in relation to the Plan for Evangelism, the author presents an orderly guide for evaluating many of today's "meetings" which are advertised under the guise of "Evangelism."

What is the Enemy of Evangelism? What leads to the Defeat of Evangelism? What is the Motivation for Evangelism? With the reality of these subjects in mind the author, seeing a need for Future Evangelistic Endeavor, closes his thoughts with chapters concerning the Hope and the Consummation of Evangelism.

OUR GOD-BREATHED BOOK—THE BIBLE (by Dr. John R. Rice—Sword of the Lord Publishers, Murfreesboro, Tennessee, 1969; 416 pages, extended index and bibliography, $5.95).

To the born-again fundamentalist, this is a most gratifying presentation of the doctrinal truth regarding the inspiration of the Word of God. In gleaning from the comments and expositions of the best Bible-believing scholars of the last one hundred years, Dr. Rice sets forth a most conclusive, detailed and convincing exposition of what we believe and what the Word itself teaches concerning the inspiration of the Scriptures.

While living in a day when Atheism, Liberalism and Modernism would do their utmost to defraud the importance, the relevance and the potency of the Bible it is encouraging to read such a work as this. As should be, the author continually equates the written Word with the Living Word in a manner resulting in conclusive proof that the Bible is truly the God-breathed Book. Such a volume as this will become increasingly valuable as the enemy steps up their endeavor to eat away at the vitals of God's Word.

YOUR ADVERSARY THE DEVIL
by J. Dwight Pentecost—Zondervan Publishing House, Grand Rapids Michigan; 191 pages $4.95).

Using the premise that a person cannot expect to overcome an enemy without knowing something of that enemy's character, equipment, nature, means of operation, and plan of attack—Mr. Pentecost shows avid research of the Doctrine of Satan. Using such subjects as "Satan, the Deceiver," "How Satan Tempts," "How Satan Operates," "The Believer's Authority Over Satan," and sixteen other pertinent chapter titles, this volume contains one of the most thorough presentations in aiding the child of God to understand the enemy and thereby being victorious in spite of and in the face of the Devil's daily onslaughts.

Bethany Association Meets

The Bethany Association of Regular Baptist Churches met on March 23rd at the Champion Baptist Church. Guest speaker was Mr. Jack Seward of the Family Service Bureau, Warren, Ohio. He discussed two questions. . . "What Is A Sound Mind?". The time spent in asking questions proved most profitable.

The book, "Why Christians Crack Up?" (Moody Press) was highly recommended. Mr. Seward is a fine Christian gentleman and a member of a Christian and Missionary Alliance church. In all, it proved to be a most interesting day!

A Psalm and A Poem

By Ralph T. Nordlund

(Read Psalm XXXI in your Bible first)

In Thee, O Lord, I put my trust,
Let none put me to shame;
Deliver me in righteousness
To the honor of Thy name.

Bend down a quick, responsive ear
To hear my lowly cry;
And be my Rock of sure defence
To lift me up on high.

My spirit I commend to Thee
In dangers daily rife,
And leave it in Thy guardian hand
Until the end of life.

For present mercies I rejoice
In life's emergencies,
Rememb'ring Thou hast known me
In past adversities.

Thou hast not let mine enemy
Shut up my soul in gloom,
But set my feet at liberty
In a large and sunny room.

When times of favor end, and I—
Alone, forsaken—stand,
Help me to trust in Thee and say,
"My times are in Thy hand."

How great the goodness Thou hast laid
In store—beyond our ken—
For all who dare to trust in Thee
Before the sons of men!

This is a fairly long psalm, but with so many precious prayer promises, that its length is not tedious. Nor should our poem be tedious, based as it is on the memory gems in verses 2, 5, 7, 8, 15, and 19, with a little background from the intervening verses. The psalm is intensely personal, and that is why it helps us so much personally. Like most of David's psalms, it is, like music, based on the law of the sea waves, which alternate between troughs and crests. Read it carefully and notice how he alternates between discouragement and exultation, but ends on a positive note of praise. Remember this the next time your spirit is down in the trough, and by faith catch hold of the divine surge that lifts you up again.
